Democratic, Right or Wrong.

SENATORIAL CHANGES AND VIEWS.—The Democracy will not be able to make as good a show in the Senate as in the lower House of the next Congress. On the 4th of March next, twenty-one Senators will retire—of this number fourteen are Republicans and seven Democrats. The indications now are that they will be filled by sixteen Republicans and five Democrats. The Democrats will lose Dixon, of Connecticut, Hendricks, of Indiana, Buckalew, of Pennsylvania, Doolittle, of Wisconsin, and Patterson, of Tennessee, and will gain Casserly, of California, a Senator from New Jersey in place of Frelinghuysen, Republican, and Thurman, of Ohio, in place of old Ben Wade.

Talk on Change.

As much as we may feel like seeing a relaxed condition in money matters, and that our people, business men and farmers should find relief when oppressed, it cannot be made so while banks have outside brokers, whom they permit to handle their money, and who exact the highest per cent that dare be demanded for its use.

No great demand for money hereabouts is made, and relief is easy to those who have $1 paper, when such is presented. The stringency is felt most heavily by our merchants, doubtless, who have sold their goods perhaps, on short credit, but find in extension taken without permission. The debtors have no money, but plenty of corn, and feel satisfied that when they sell they will pay.

We have heard but little excitement on the corn question recently, and the supply up to the demand. We hear of an improvement in the price over our last week's quotations. Distillers are not as anxious to purchase as they were some weeks back, and are now looking quite easy, with a ray of hope that the price on corn will have a downward tendency.

The debtors have no money, but plenty of corn, and feel satisfied that when they sell they will pay. We have heard but little excitement on the corn question recently, and the supply up to the demand. We hear of an improvement in the price over our last week's quotations. Distillers are not as anxious to purchase as they were some weeks back, and are now looking quite easy, with a ray of hope that the price on corn will have a downward tendency.

They may be mistaken—time will tell. In Cincinnati there was a dull market for new ear corn during the greater portion of the week, and the transactions have been on a moderate scale only. Prices are in favor of buyers, but no material decline has been established. Sales were made early in the week at 55c, but 57c is now as much as buyers are willing to pay, and some purchases were made at these figures. The demand for old corn is light, though there is not a great deal on the market. Sales were at the usual 75c for ear. The distillers are generally continuing their attention to new, and the local demand for old is light.

There is nothing doing just now in the rye trade. It is a dull sale here, and the Cincinnati price has fallen 5c.

The railroad has been actively engaged in shippings down to Covington, and as there are but few traders, and as the crop is being sent to market by the producers, we will give our readers their value in Cincinnati. The receipts there have been liberal, footing up for the week ending this evening 24,000 head. The weather has been favorable for slaughtering purposes, and early in the week drovers succeeded in establishing an advance of 25c per cental. The increased receipts for three or four days past, together with the decline in the product, caused a dull market, and this advance was lost, and the market closed quiet. The receipts since Saturday, as reported on the books of the Merchants' Exchange, foot up about 9,500 head. The market this morning opened dull and ruled so throughout the day. Some sales were made at $7 to 7 1/2 per cental for light and heavy averages gross, though $7 60 was in several instances paid for extra heavy in the early part of the day. Dressed hogs sold to-day at $8 90 a 9 for 200 pound averages; $9 10 for 215 lb. weights, and $9 25 for very heavy; the latter, however, is regarded as being unable to agree on price. Whisky in the market has none of the fluctuating elements about it, so common with other brands. The whisky manufactured here is sold to the speculator before it passes through the warehouse. Eastern dealers consider it equal, if not better, than imported liquors—in fact it has taken the place already of foreign liquors, and is growing in public favor. Hence it is that our liquors never vacillate in price.

We hear that Mes. Ford & Hutchison have sold 2,000 barrels to Eastern dealers at high prices.

Eight barrels of two year old straight copper whisky was sold by F. Gray to Capt. F. Musselman at $3 in bond. It was made by Mr. Horner.

John H. Lair, has sold his residence near Lair's Station, and 104 acres of land to T. R. Rankin, of this city, for $120 per acre.

James and John Snell have rented of Smith's heirs the Geo. Thomas farm on Townsend, of 57 acres, for $5.75 per acre.

Judge O'Hara appointed Achilles Perrin, Master Commissioner for this county.

Mule Trade.

Nathan Bayless passed through town yesterday en route to Georgia, with 40 head of No. 1 mules.

Mr. Warren Alford, of Danville, has returned from Harrisburg, Pennsylvania, where he had taken a head of second-rate mules. He sold them at an average of $114.50 per head. He reports a tight market—with a superabundance of stock on hand.

Fisher & Boutwell bought of J. W. Lambrecht, of Harrison, at $150 per head also 15 head of Mart Layson at $32.50. This farm we understand, sold a car load for the Eastern market, and have 100 on hand.

Col. Thomas Johnson, of Montgomery, writes to the Kentuckian that mules and horses have been passing through Nashville in large numbers for the last three weeks. These shipments are mostly from Kentucky, Tennessee and Indiana.

Alex. McClutock shipped 100 head to Atlanta, Ga.

Jas. McMiller and Thos. McClintock each sent a lot to the same point.

You may be too Late.

Be warned in time. Diseases like indigestion and dyspepsia are not to be trifled with. There is such a thing as being too late in these matters. Indigestion, or Stomach Cancer, or some other dangerous disease may ensue, when all restoratives, no matter how potent, would be ineffectual. Do not delay then. When the symptoms of Dyspepsia first experienced resort at once to the great restorative medicine, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, and you will be safe.

But few disorders involve greater suffering, and if not itself immediately dangerous, it is the source of many deadly malaises. Even if it did not tend to greater evil, the mental and physical misery it produces is alone a sufficient reason why no pains should be spared to prevent or cure it. In no country on the face of the globe is it so completely domesticated as in our own, where it is found in nearly every household. Hostetter's Stomach Bitters are universally conceded to be the sovereign remedy for this annoying disease, as they act directly upon the digestive organs, correct and tone the stomach, and give renewed vitality to the system. Acting delightfully upon the nerves and soothing the brain, render them efficient as a mental medicine, as well as a general stimulant. If taken as a preventive, they will be found particularly well suited to the disease arising from the unhealthy season of autumn, and their use will prevent the creeping, unpleasant sensation often complained of when the chills are stealing slowly upon the patient.

pointed School Commissioner for Bourbon county.

John McClintock, of Bourbon, has a 6 year old bullock that weighs 3,500 pounds.

Messrs. Day and Frazier have sold out their interest in the grocery store on Pike street, to our friend J. W. Jewett, and he will continue the business at the same place. Mr. J. is an excellent business man, and worthy of patronage. We hope he and his clever assistant, Mr. J. Hogg may do a good business.

The Danville Advocate calls upon the Lexington Statesman to correct the rumor to the effect that two negroes were recently hanged in Danville. There was not a word of truth in it.
